VIFW PROTESTED BALLOTS

Great Task of Counting Was Begun To-day—A Man Confesses He Went from Utica to New York to Cast Ballot.

New York, Nov. 18.—Supreme Court Justice Glicerich started early today on his task of deciding whether to declare void or good the protested ballots from the 1129 election districts of Manhattan and the Bronx.

At eleven o'clock, as near as could be ascertained, the count was about even.

HE CONFESSED THAT HE VOTED ILLEGALLY

Albert Farrar of Utica Says He Went to New York for Purpose of Casting a Vote, Got $10 For It.

New York, Nov. 18.—Albert Farrar, accused of illegal voting at New York's contested election, yesterday confessed in court that he came here to vote from Utica, N. Y. He said that he was brought to New York to vote the Republican ticket and that a Republican district leader introduced him in political circles as his son. Farrar said he received $10 for his vote. He was remanded for sentence.

The grand jury has begun to investigate the disappearance of John Krup, who was under $5,000 cash bail to answer a charge of illegal voting in the 18th assembly district. Charles F. Dillon, his attorney, was subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury.

It was reported that Krup was put aboard a train for San Francisco on Thursday night. Two men are said to have taken him to the train at Jersey City and to have bought his ticket for him.

A subpoena has been issued for the appearance of Alderman J. J. Gaffney. Frank Senior, chairman of the board of inspectors of the 12th election district of the 19th assembly district, was arrested in connection with the case of Thomas McCabe, now under arrest, charged with having voted in the name of Thomas Corning. McCabe is charged with illegal voting and Senior with aiding and abetting him.

APPEAL TO SUPREME COURT.

Hearst to Ask That Boxes Be Opened and Votes Counted.

New York, Nov. 18.—Alderman Timothy D. Sullivan, Tammany leader of the sixth assembly district, yesterday appeared before the board of canvassers, when it examined the tally sheets of his district in the recount of the votes cast in the recent election. He said he felt sure other errors would be found and that he would fight all protests.

The first sheets examined showed that W. R. Hearst had not been credited with 33 votes which were cast for him. In the third election sheet the returns of election night showed no votes for Hearst and 33 for Crawford, the prohibition candidate, but the tally sheet showed that these votes were cast for Hearst, while the prohibition candidate received none.

Minor errors, apparently clerical or resulting from the blunders of the election officers, were found in a large number of additional election districts. In one instance no return was made by the ballot clerk. The examination will be continued on Monday.

The grand jury yesterday handed down six more indictments for election frauds. It was announced by counsel for Mr. Hearst that an application would be made to the supreme court early next week for an order to have the ballot boxes opened and the votes counted.

SEVEN PASSENGERS HURT.

Runaway Horse Crashed Into Trolley Car in South Boston, Mass.

Boston, Nov. 18.—Seven passengers were injured, one fatally, as the result of a runaway horse attached to a heavy dump cart crashing into the side of a moving electric car in South Boston yesterday afternoon. The heavy vehicle struck the car with great force, splintering glass and breaking wood work, which was scattered among the passengers.

One of the shafts of the cart pierced the car, and in its passage struck an unknown young woman, fracturing her skull and causing other injuries. She was removed to the city hospital unconscious. Physicians expressed the opinion that she would not recover. She is about 30 years of age. The other injured persons were cut by flying glass and splinters as well as bruised. The accident happened at the corner of Broadway and Dorchester avenue.

The horse, which was driven by Patrick McDavie, became frightened as it was passing down Broadway at a passing automobile and started away running at quick speed. The driver was unable to check the animal and at the corner of Dorchester avenue was unable to stop the horse from swinging into a Boston bound electric car. The force of the collision stopped the car, the passengers of which were thrown into a panic.

The driver of the cart was seriously hurt in the collision, receiving bruises and internal injuries as well as a badly cut head. The others hurt were:

Miss T. C. Johnson, Dorchester, cut and bruised. Taken home.

Mrs. Mary Mulligan, Dorchester, cut on face and head. Taken home.

George Galloway, policeman, thrown from the front platform of the car and bruised.

Fred Murray, Roxbury, cut by flying glass.

John Stanton, Boston, cut and bruised.

STORAGE HOUSE RUINED.

Excitement at a Boston Fire, Near Institution for Dipsonians.

Boston, Nov. 18.—A large five-story brick building used for storage purposes by the Continental Storage Warehouse company, 1255 Washington street, South End, was ruined by fire which started at 2:30 last night. The building stood in the rear of the company's office and occupied a large space between Washington street and Shawmut avenue near Waltham street. Showers of sparks endangered the congested tenement house district in the vicinity, and about a dozen families at 1296 Washington street and adjoining buildings had to abandon their apartments.

Three alarms were sounded, and, although the firemen were handicapped on account of lack of entrances to the property, they were able to prevent the flames from causing heavy damage to nearby buildings. The warehouse was owned by Mary Schlesinger.

In the progress of the fire, the patients in the Washington House for Dipsonians, situated near the warehouse, became alarmed. Dr. Ellsworth, the superintendent, succeeded in calming the inmates. The home was not damaged, but at one time was seriously threatened.

The loss on the warehouse is total and although it is difficult to estimate the value of the contents, it is thought that the total on the building and goods will reach $100,000.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—The identity of the trotter Advancer has been fully established by Secretary Knight of the American Trotting association, who has ordered that payment be made of two $5,000 stakes won by the horse at Milwaukee and Libertyville, last summer. Secretary Knight went to Brandon, Vt., to investigate, and returned to Chicago yesterday and made the announcement that the horse had not been misrepresented and that all purses which he won would be ordered paid.

SPASMODIC STRIKES.

Will Be Resorted to by St. Petersburg Workmen.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 18.—Conditions are improving in the city today, and it is hoped that the worst is over. A decision to call off the strike was reached at a meeting of workmen this morning. The resumption of work will not be for good, however, as the meeting resolved to put in operation a system of spasmodic strikes, by which they propose to stop all work in the city at frequent intervals, until the government yields to the demands of the working classes.

YALE FILD
HOLDS 30,000

Immense Crowd Gathered to See Princeton Game.

WEATHER BAD FOR PLAYERS

But Agreeable for the Crowd — Both Teams Entered the Contest in Fit Condition—Odds With Yale.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 18.—It is estimated that 30,000 spectators were present when the Yale-Princeton football game began this afternoon. The weather is balmy, favorable for the crowds of onlookers, but hard for the players. Seldom has a big game been played here with the temperature so high.

The Princeton team stopped over in New York last night, but members of the vanguard from that college reached here early and reported that every man is in prime shape. Trainer Mack of Yale says that every man who has been prepared for the Princeton game is in good condition. Yale feels that her best foot ball is needed to win, and the best that is in Princeton is not only promised but is expected.

A short signal practice at the Yale field yesterday afternoon and another in the gymnasium last night was all the work done by the Yale team, and in both of these Erwin was at left guard. It was not until then that the coaches decided to start Erwin at guard, for some of them favored Hockenburger. Erwin is lighter than Hockenburger, who is the heaviest man on the squad, and during the past week fairly won his position by his great work with the scrum.

The officials are: Everts Wrenn, Harvard, umpire; J. C. McCracken, University of Pennsylvania, referee, and C. Daly, Harvard, head linesman.

In regard to weight the teams are evenly matched, Yale having a very slight advantage.

St. Johnsbury, Nov. 18.—Company D of this town last evening swamped the All Stars of Manchester, N. H., in a game of basketball that was fairly clean. The score was 47 to 1. It was the first contest of the season for both teams.

Score, Co. D 47, All Stars 1: goals from floor, Smyth 5, McGovern 7, Beck 4, Calderwood 2, Hale 2; goals on fouls, Beck 4, McGovern 3; Lang, time, three 15-minute periods.

BLACKMAIL IS CHARGED.

Two Chicago Men Were Arrested on Armour's Complaint.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—William S. McSwain and William Cole, his brother-in-law, were arrested yesterday, charged with attempting to blackmail J. Ogden Armour and other members of Armour & Co. for $40,000 in connection with the beef trust investigation by means of letters which they are alleged to have stolen from the files of Armour & Co.

McSwain was employed by Armour & Co. for four years as a stenographer. Since the recent beef investigation was begun, it is charged that McSwain has taken letters from the files of the concern. Three weeks ago, it is said, McSwain went to Armour and threatened to turn the letters over to federal officers unless Armour paid $40,000. Mr. Armour refused to listen to the proposal. McSwain, it is alleged, made similar demands on other officers of Armour & Co.

FIFTEEN KILLED IN POWER EXPLOSION

Telephone Message from Marion, N. C., Tells of a Terrible Fatality at That Place Last Night.

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 18.—A special from Spencer, N. C., says:

A private telephone message received here from Marion, N. C., reports that 15 people were killed near there last night by the explosion of a powder magazine located just outside of the town. The shock of the explosion was so great that it was felt at Morgantown 21 miles away.

The report has not been confirmed. The scene of the explosion is remote from the telegraph.

The Hottentots.

The so-called "Hottentots" who have so long and so bravely resisted the might of Germany are akin to the Cape Boys—that is to say, a mixture of all races but with Hottentot predominating. Many have a large proportion of white blood, and the writer has seen some that would pass at a glance for Italians or Spaniards. Their language is Dutch, they are Christians by religion, and their dress and customs are on the Boer model. Many of them can read and write comparatively high. In fact, life, property and the honor of women are safer among these people, practically free from control as they are, than in many well-policed areas in Europe—London, Mail.

IS A MYSTERY STILL.

The Cause of the Death of Orphan's Home Children.

Burlington, Nov. 18.—The mystery which surrounds the death of three children at the St. Joseph's orphan asylum and the illness of about a score more will always be a mystery in all probability, as science has been unable to determine the cause of the death and illness.

Dr. B. H. Stone, director of the state laboratory of hygiene, was asked yesterday if he would make any further report in the matter and he replied that nothing further could be done. He said the guinea pig inoculated with the substance was sick, but did not die, and that it had been proven that locust poisoning was not infectious. He said everything had been done at the laboratory that could be done to determine the cause of the poisoning, but that nothing definite could be discovered.

Theories in regard to the matter vary and the case will probably be discussed in medical journals from a professional standpoint.

HE SKATED ON THIN ICE

And Rochester Boy Lost His Life Last Night.

FIRST ACCIDENT OF SEASON

Aberlondo Martinez, Cuban Boy, the Victim—Called for Help but It Was Impossible to Get Him Out in Time.

Rochester, Nov. 18.—The first skating accident of the season in Vermont was recorded last night when Aberlondo Martinez, a lad seventeen years of age, was drowned in the creek at this place.

Martinez started out alone with his skates shortly after dark, and within a short time cries for help were heard from the direction. Arthur Curtis was the first to respond. He found that he couldn't get the boy out of the water alone, and so summoned other help. Yet with this added aid, it was impossible to reach the drowning lad for some time, probably half an hour. All the time Martinez kept up a brave struggle for life and succeeded in keeping at the surface of the water.

When he was finally taken out Dr. Morrison did what he could to resuscitate him, but to no avail. The boy came from Cuba with the Vermont National Guard. Both his parents are dead and the whereabouts of other relatives is unknown. He was 17 years of age and had lived with Oscar Martin for three or four years.

There was only a thin coating of ice on the creek, and skating was very dangerous.

AUTO KILLS BOY.

Accident Happened in Tyngsboro, Mass., Last Night.

Nashua, N. H., Nov. 18.—An automobile owned by Charles E. Smith of South Main street struck and killed a boy named Swain, aged 10, on the bridge over the Merrimack river in Tyngsboro, Mass., last evening. The machine contained Mrs. Smith's mother and Mrs. Charles O. Collins of Kinsley street, besides the chauffeur, Henry Langier.

The party was on its way from Lowell to Nashua. In coming over the bridge, they kept the center of the roadway. The boy was watching a railroad train which was passing under the bridge. He did not hear the auto and, when he turned from the bridge railing, stepped directly in front of the speeding car. One of the lamps struck him, killing him instantly.

The body was taken to the home of his parents. After a stop, the auto and its occupants proceeded to Nashua. The two women in the machine, Mrs. Smith and the chauffeur, are all nearly prostrated by the occurrence. Mr. Smith is in Florida.

FOUR QUARRIES
CONSOLIDATED
BY THIS DEAL

BARRE IN 1820.

Was Quite a Hustling Community Even in Those Days.

Mrs. J. Henry Jackson has a copy of Zadock Thompson's "A Gazetteer of the State of Vermont," published in 1824 by the author and E. P. Walton of Montpelier. The volume has been preserved in three generations of Mrs. Jackson's family.

The sketch of Barre in the little book furnishes some interesting facts. Thompson says that the township was "granted Nov. 6, 1780, to William Williams and his associates, and chartered by the name of Wildersburgh. It retained this name till the year 1793, when it was altered, by act of the legislature, to that of Barre." It states that in 1788 Samuel Rogers of Bradford and John Goldaborough of Hartland "moved into this town and began converting the wilderness into farms." The town was largely settled by people from Worcester county, Mass., New Hampshire and Connecticut.

Thompson mentions three epidemics of scarlet fever in 1795, of spotted fever in 1811, and of "pneumoniae typhoides" in 1812. But he concludes that since then, with few exceptions, the people have been "remarkably healthy."

Granite in Millstone and Cobble hills was known then, as Thompson speaks of the "inexhaustible quarries of excellent granite, which is used as building stone, and wrought into mill stones, which are transported to different parts of this state, and to New York and Canada." The methods of getting it out was by means of drills.

Thompson speaks of a mineral spring near Jail branch, "which has been a place of some resort for valetudinarians, but has never had the fame of effecting any wonderful cures."

Barre's business was quite extensive even in those days. There were four stores, two taverns, three grist mills, "two of which may be reckoned among the best in the state," five saw mills, three clover mills, two woolen factories, two clothing works, two cabinet shops, two tanneries, seven blacksmith shops and one pottery.

A LIVE WILD CAT.

Captured by a Lebanon, N. H., Boy—Weighs 20 Pounds.

Lebanon, N. H., Nov. 18.—Loren Miller, son of Postmaster William Miller of North Grantham, has captured a twenty-pound wildcat alive.

Miller, who is a trapper, discovered the animal in a trap on Croydon mountain which he had set for coon or mink. He came home, got several men to help him, and returned to the trap. The animal, after quite an encounter, succeeded in getting it into the basket, and he now has it in a strong cage.

The animal is ugly. It will snarl and jump about the cage, and it does not keep its eyes off anyone who is near. It is a rare occurrence to capture a wildcat alive in this section of the state, although several have been killed near here in recent years.

The members were all weighed when the club was formed, and after a certain time limit there is to be a round-up to determine who has been the most successful in accomplishing the object of the organization and to this young lady a prize will be presented by the other members of the club. Long walking excursions and various methods of physical culture are being employed in the effort to down the averdupois.

Great Transaction Effected

Late Yesterday, Whereby McDonald, Cutler & Co., Worden Bros., Marr & Gordon and Marrior & Worden Properties Are Combined.

CAPITAL STOCK IS HALF A MILLION

Marr & Gordon Sell Their Quarry Outright And Are Said to Have Received Upwards of $100,000—Corporation's Name is Consolidated Quarry Co.

The deeds were passed late yesterday afternoon by which the quarries of McDonald, Cutler & Co., Worden Bros., Marr & Gordon and Marr & Worden were sold to the "Consolidated Quarry Co.," incorporated under the laws of Vermont, with a capital stock of $500,000. By this merger four large light and medium quarries adjoining each other in the Websterville district are brought under one head and one management, although the ownership remains practically the same, with the exception of the Marr & Gordon quarry, whose owners sell and retire. There are but six stockholders in the new corporation, John W. McDonald, F. T. Cutler and D. W. McDonald of Barre, C. A. Worden of Batavia, N. Y., E. A. Owens of Danville, N. Y., and W. M. Gilboa of Batavia, N. Y.

The combined quarries cover 64 acres of territory and have been operated from 185 to 18 years each. The Marr & Gordon quarry was opened 18 years ago, and has always been operated by them. It produces a fine light stock, and while the price is not given it is understood they received in the neighborhood of $100,000 for it. The Capitol quarries and the McDonald, Cutler & Co. quarries were opened about the same time, 16 years ago, the latter by J. W. and D. W. McDonald. This quarry has a $50,000 equipment.

The new company proposes to construct a central plant to operate the consolidated quarries, thus greatly reducing the expense of production, and the management expects to be able to take care of the trade with greater promptness and more general satisfaction, as they can now furnish any stone the cars can carry.

The officers of the new corporation are: John W. McDonald, president and general manager; C. A. Worden, vice president; F. T. Cutler, treasurer; D. W. McDonald, superintendent.

The new corporation starts business Monday, though it does not take possession of the Marr & Gordon quarries until December 1. For the present the office of the corporation will be with McDonald, Cutler & Co., at their cutting plant on Burnham's meadow.
